Black History Month @ Your Library

Black History Month is an annual celebration of achievements by black Americans and a time for recognizing the central role of African Americans in U.S. history. The event grew out of "Negro History Week," the brainchild of noted historian Carter G. Woodson and other prominent African Americans. Since 1976, every U.S. president has officially designated the month of February as Black History Month. Other countries around the world, including Canada and the United Kingdom, also devote a month to celebrating black history.

Lois Burrell will be presenting "Black History Stories" on Wednesday, February 15, 2012 from noon—1:00 pm. Lois is a professional storyteller from Brighton and has delighted audiences with her vibrant and meaningful stories. This is a free program and all are invited.
